To Whom It May Concern:

This is a letter of comment and recommendation for Jim Levie and his company HomeScope Residential Construction Management.

CPI Interiors has been working with Jim in a professional capacity for almost six years. During that time his experience, knowledge base and highly developed ability to plan and organize has served our many clients' very well, with the successful completion of dozens of high end renovation projects, ranging from simple powder room conversions to major interior renovations involving structural work and detailed layout changes.

Jim's ability to produce very detailed scopes of work and realistic schedules, combined with concern that the project be completed to code requirements and the accepted standards within the industry will ensure a successful completion to your project. We continue to work with Jim and his company HomeScope and we recommend his services for your project.

Yours truly,

Catherine Pulcine
